British Laborites Lose in Election

Heavy Setback Occurs in Big Cities; Preview of 1950 Tests

London, May 13 (AP)—The Labor Party lost heavily today in returns from big city elections previewing the Labor government's 1950 general election test. Press association returns from 331 of the 420 boroughs which voted for councilmen yesterday showed: Labor won 77 seats but lost 524, a net loss of 437. Conservatives won 522 seats and lost 24, a net gain of 528. The returns continued a trend toward the right begun last month in county council elections. Both Conservatives and Laborites claimed elsewhere in Britain earlier this week in rural and urban district council ballots. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 8)

State Department To Debate Status Of Its Policies

Washington, May 13 (AP)—The State Department appears headed for a new debate on whether it is moving too far and too fast in shifting American policies on Germany and Japan. The shift is from postwar "toughness" to peacetime reconstruction. Officials are admittedly aware that every move they make to put the two former enemy countries back on a self-sustaining basis and give them increasing self-government is subject to criticism. The criticism is sounded both here and abroad, frequently on the issue of a "tough" versus "soft" policy.

The latest of such moves came yesterday when the State Department announced that reparations removals of industrial equipment from Japan had been halted in the interest of rebuilding that country's peacetime economy. The announcement paralleled a move last month by the United States, Britain and France—a move which this country initiated—in striking 159 plants from the list of those earmarked for removal from Germany as reparations. That action also was explained by the determination of the western powers, at American urging, to get the German economy on a paying basis again and enable it to contribute needed goods to European recovery under the Marshall Plan. The action with respect to (Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Reds Report West Evades Agreement

Western Allies Declare Accusation Nonsense; Some Observers See Implied Threat

Demand Payment

Germans Say Firms Want Money Before Shipping to East

Berlin, May 13 (AP)—The Russians accused the western allies today of "torpedoing" the agreement to lift the Berlin blockade. A western spokesman promptly labeled the accusation "a lot of nonsense." The spokesman was Lawrence Wilkinson, economics adviser to the U. S. military governor. "We were told by our governments to remove all restrictions put into effect since March 1, 1948," he said. "We've done that and more."

The Soviet protest was voiced informally, through the monthly piece of the Soviet army newspaper in Germany, "Taegliche Rundschau."

"The western powers are evading the lifting of their restrictions under invalid pretexts," it charged. "The agreement cannot be fulfilled by the Soviet side alone," it added.

Some observers saw in those words an implied threat to reimpose the blockade—but such a step would be a matter of policy for higher authorities than the Russians in Germany to decide.

But the Rundschau statements did lend emphasis to the Russian need for getting supplies from western Germany for her nearly bankrupt occupation zone.

The economic minister of American-occupied Hesse said charges for the Soviet zone would receive export licenses only if they were covered by pre-blockade contracts and had been made before the western zone currency reform of mid-1948.

The ministry said negotiations for a new clearing arrangement are in progress, but that it is not clear how the exchange rate for east and west marks should be determined. Until a new agreement materializes, it added, only pre-paid shipments are being permitted.

S.L.A. Will Ask Appeal From Appellate Ruling

New York, May 13 (AP)—An appeal seeking to prevent possible renewal of price wars in the package liquor trade headed for New York state's highest court today.

The attorney for the State Liquor Authority (S.L.A.) said he would apply today to the Court of Appeals to prevent the immediate scrapping of mandatory fair-trade pricing in the industry.

The S.L.A. last night lost such an appeal to presiding Justice David W. Peck of the first department of the Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court. Alvin McKinley Sylvester, the S.L.A. counsel, had asked Peck to stay his own court's decision outlawing mandatory price-fixing, pending appeal to the Court of Appeals. Sylvester said he would make a (Continued on Page 6, Col. 8)

Eisler's Wife Held For Deportation; Husband to Return

United States Insists He Go Through Regular Procedure; Woman at Island

Washington, May 13 (AP)—Mrs. Gearhart Eisler today was arrested for deportation while the Justice Department laid plans to bring her husband back from his flight across the seas.

The department announced that Mrs. Eisler was taken into custody in New York city this morning. She had been at liberty, without bond, on charges of being illegally in this country.

One reason for her re-arrest was that the government wished to question her about the flight of Eisler, 52-year-old admitted Communist, as a stowaway on a Polish vessel. The Justice Department said that immigration service officials in New York had been instructed to detain Mrs. Eisler on Ellis Island.

Except for the principle of the thing, the government could save quite a bit of money by just ignoring Eisler's flight while under charges looking to his deportation.

The 52-year-old admitted Communist in this country time by time for violating its laws while living here as an alien guest.

And while the department frankly will be delighted to exclude him from the United States forever, it insists upon doing this through the regular procedure: By a deportation action which already is in motion.

Hence, elaborate arrangements have been completed for interception of the stowaway aboard the Polish liner Batory—now on the Atlantic—who has identified himself as Eisler. These arrangements call for his prompt return to America.

Mrs. Eisler, listed in official records as Brunhilde Rotstein Eisler, is a native of Poland.

She was first arrested in early 1948 on charges that she had overstayed her time in this country as a visiting alien.

Mrs. Eisler, now 37, came to New York in June, 1941, on a transit visa. That simply permitted her passage through this country to Mexico. However, this was later changed to a temporary visiting permit.

She and Eisler were married in New York city in 1942, and have since resided there.

Mrs. Eisler originally surrendered herself on deportation warrant in March, 1948, and was paroled without bond pending a hearing.

She and Eisler were married in Manila, May 13 (AP)—Philippine Airlines investigators today said a missing C-47 transport plane with 13 persons aboard exploded in the air May 7 over mysterious circumstances. One body has been recovered. It was that of the pilot, Capt. Ramon Nieva. Two Americans are missing. Bits of the plane's wreckage recovered from Alabat Island, 70 miles southeast of Manila, indicated the tail section of the craft had been torn by an explosion. Police sought the identity of a man who placed a 45-noted box supposedly containing a fish, aboard the plane at its last stop, Dact.

Methodists Vote 10 Points, Back U.S. Health Plan

Civil Rights Group Says 'Trenton Six' Case Is 'Frameup'

Appeal Is to Be Heard by New Jersey Court; Charged With Murder

Trenton, N. J., May 13 (AP)—The death sentence conviction of the "Trenton six" was attacked as a vicious frameup today on the eve of an appeal before New Jersey's highest court.

The Civil Rights Congress, which is spearheading the defense of the six Trenton Negroes, issued an 11th-hour statement branding the conviction "an attempted lynching—northern style."

State Supreme Court argument on the appeal is slated for Monday.

Hurling charges of racial persecution at Mercer county police officials, the Congress called the trial "a vicious frameup" and a northern lynch mob case. Leaflets containing these accusations have been distributed by the organization in a worldwide campaign to "free the Trenton six."

The Congress is listed as subversive by the U. S. Justice Department.

Controversy over the case started last summer when the six men were sentenced to die in the electric chair for the bludgeoning slaying of William Horner, 72-year-old Trenton shopkeeper. Now in the state death house, they face the biggest mass execution in New Jersey's history.

"Conviction of the six Negroes by an all-white jury was based solely on so-called 'confessions' which were extorted from the men and later repudiated by all of them," the congress charged.

The men were arrested without warrants, not permitted to consult with counsel and questioned by relays of police officers for five days and nights."

Say Clients Confessed

Defense lawyers contend their clients confessed after they were drugged and beaten by the police. The staff of defense attorneys is headed by former Assistant U. S. Attorney General O. John Rogge and includes Earl B. Dickerson of Chicago, Emanuel H. Bloch of New York and Executive Secretary William I. Patterson of the C.R.C.

Patterson was a defense lawyer in the Scottsboro case, which aroused national interest in 1931 when nine Alabama Negroes were condemned to death on charges of attacking two white girls. None of the death sentences was carried out.

The State of Alabama dropped charges against four of the "Scottsboro Negroes" in 1937 after they had spent six years in jail. The death sentences of the remaining five were commuted to sentences ranging from 20 years to life imprisonment after lengthy legal battles that saw the case taken several times to the United States Supreme Court.

The sentence of one of the five was commuted to life imprisonment, another was commuted to 99 years, two to 75 years, and the fifth to 20 years.

Rogge said C.R.C. chapters had enlisted support for the Trenton six from the American Civil Liberties Union, the National Lawyers Guild, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the New Jersey State C.I.O.

Report Calls for 'Fair Code Practices' for Congress, Better Minimum Wage, Ways to Give Employables Work

The annual New York conference of the Methodist Church, meeting here for the second day today, has unanimously endorsed President Truman's compulsory health insurance plan.

Six hundred delegates are attending the four-day meeting. At the opening sessions Thursday at St. James Church, the delegates passed without discussion and without a dissenting vote a report supporting the health program and calling for:

1. Legislation to establish "fair code practices" for all congressional investigating committees. Such a code, the report said, should "protect fully the rights of those being investigated."

2. Improve minimum wage legislation and steps to "find ways of providing for all employable men and women the opportunity to earn their support by honest, creative effort."

Discussing non-registered conscientious objectors, the report said courts currently are dealing with such persons in a severe manner that "is no credit to American democracy."

The report was made by the Church's Commission on Social Education and Action, headed by Alfred H. Coons, of Beacon, N. Y., statistician of the conference.

Before the business session, the delegates participated in a memorial service for deceased members of the conference. It was led by Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam.

The conference is the 150th annual meeting. About half the delegates are ministers, the rest lay members of the church.

Program Is Outlined

The 10 points outlined were the following:

1. Public opinion must educate public opinion to support the enactment of legislation to eliminate discrimination and segregation in employment, housing, health services, welfare services, recreation, transportation, service in restaurants and other public accommodations, and the full enforcement of such legislation.

Congressional passage of the Civil Rights Bill (H.R. 199), removing immigration and naturalization barriers to Asian and Pacific peoples, will belatedly rectify the wrongs of the Oriental Exclusion Act (1924), and will prove to be a milestone on the way to international neighborliness.

2. We view with alarm departures from those principles which are basic to American democracy, whether these departures be by government or other agencies. We protest against aiding men by vague and unsubstantiated innuendoes as to the views and past associations. We favor legislation to establish a fair code of practices for all congressional investigating committees, to protect fully the civil rights of those who are being investigated.

3. While we do not condone refusal to register (for the peace-time draft), we feel that the extreme severity with which non-registered conscientious objectors are now being dealt with in our courts is no credit to American democracy.

4. We favor and call upon our representatives in government to enact minimum wage legislation to assure the welfare of the public—including industry, labor and consumer. We therefore favor pending (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

Traffic Light Is Asked At Albany, Foxhall

Second Ward Alderman John Dawkins in a recent letter to the Common Council asks for consideration by that body and its Traffic Control Committee of a traffic hazard at Albany and Foxhall avenues.

Threatens to Change Law, If Reds Receive Funds

Washington, May 13 (AP)—Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) threatened today to seek a change in the law if the Atomic Energy Commission doesn't deny student aid funds to Communist and fellow travelers.

Hickenlooper told a reporter he sees "no excuse" for the commission's contributing about $3,600 yearly toward science studies by Communist doing graduate work in physics at the University of North Carolina.

Freistadt, described by Rep. Cole (R-N.Y.) in the House yesterday as a friend of John Gates, Communist under indictment in New York, said in an interview he became a Communist after he was naturalized as a citizen several years ago. He is a native of Austria.

He was awarded an Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) fellowship for study in the field of relativity, not involving work of a secret nature.

"Nothing was said in the application for the scholarship about political affiliation," Freistadt recalled. He also said: "I consider myself a loyal citizen of the United States. I see no conflict between my loyalty to this country and my membership in the Communist party."

Hickenlooper said he will ask the Senate House Atomic Committee to look over copies of such applications at a hearing next week.

The Iowa senator said that the AEC require security clearance of those chosen for fellowships.

"Even though none of these fellowships involves access to research," he said.

Ex-US Hotel Demolition Comes First

Six Other Buildings Are to Be 'Scattered' in Proposed Construction Area

Will Start Soon

Operations Will Begin Shortly After First Contract Is Let

The first definite move by the New York State Department of Public Works toward starting the Broadway crossing elimination project was announced today by the department which has set May 18 for the advertising for bids on a demolition contract for the razing of 16 of the 30 buildings in the project area.

The first contract, the announcement said, is based on an estimated cost of $28,000, and has been added to a letting scheduled for June 8.

A main portion of the contract, it explained, will be centered in the southwest quadrant of the intersection at Broadway and Greenkill avenue and includes the former United States Hotel, which is to be razed first.

Six other buildings, mentioned in the contract, the announcement said, are to be "scattered throughout the proposed construction area."

Others Will Follow

The department disclosed that "it is planned to include the demolition of the remaining 14 structures within the area required for the elimination project in the general construction contract, which will be advertised for letting later in the year. A total of 30 structures must be demolished within the grade crossing elimination construction area."

Officials of the department have indicated previously that actual demolition work will start soon after the first contract is let.

Will Cause Least Hardship

Proposed start of the work in the section mentioned, indicates that the public works department has considered starting the project where it will cause the least hardship to tenants and property holders. The proposal to stagger the demolition work was stressed recently by State Senator Arthur H. Wicks.

The Central Business Men's Association, that he had made the suggestion to the state officials.

Robert W. Case, president of the Central Business Men's Association, which recently made a bid, through a letter to Senator Wicks, for an extension of time in which to vacate premises in the area, said at the session of the business men he had been informed that the state would advertise for bids this month. The date announced today is the same as that given by Case at the time.

No Formal Deadline

The state had previously announced that it expected all properties to be vacated by May 31, but Senator Wicks in his recent letter indicated that no deadline had been formally established. Property holders in the area, however, are now faced with actual start of the project, and deadlines may be set under impetus of contract.

The United States Hotel was the first building acquired by the state in preparation for starting the project, but the right to enter all other properties was established by the state when it filed plans at the county clerk's office late in February.

Property holders in the area have hastened plans for locating elsewhere within the past two weeks, but with some plans are still indefinite.

Merchants, property holders, and other tenants in the area were assured by state officials at a meeting here in February that the elimination project was a reality, and the state has been adhering closely to the schedule announced at that time.

The contract letting scheduled for June 8 indicates that the state is planning actual start of the work sometime next month, and probably not more than a week or two after the contract is awarded.

Coal Strike Ends

Albany, N. Y., May 13 (AP)—A strike of more than 200 coal truck drivers and helpers ended today with agreement on a new contract providing for pay increases.

The contract provides for a 10 percent increase in pay for the first year, and a 5 percent increase for the second year.

The strike was called by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, which represents the drivers and helpers.

The contract also provides for a 10 percent increase in pay for the first year, and a 5 percent increase for the second year.

Public Health Laboratory Group Meet at Albany

Albany, N. Y., May 13—Representatives of the approved public health laboratories of New York state assembled here today in the auditorium of the Division of Laboratories and Research of the New York State Department of Health for the 33rd annual meeting of the New York State Association of Public Health Laboratories. To secure approval and quality to send representatives to the meetings of the association, a New York state laboratory, performing bacteriological and chemical examinations for the diagnosis and management of pneumonia, tuberculosis, syphilis, undulant fever, and a long list of other communicable diseases, must meet the high standards of accuracy established by the Division of Laboratories and Research. The laboratory must also be approved for the pathological examination of specimens obtained from surgical operations and autopsies. There are now 140 of these qualified approved laboratories scattered over the entire state from Buffalo to Long Island.

It has often been stated by authorities in public health that New York state has the best public health laboratory service in the world for a large population. The association, whose membership is composed of the directors of these laboratories and their associates, meets twice a year for scientific sessions devoted to appraisal of new diagnostic procedures and critical discussions of other problems of public health laboratories. The principal emphasis of the meetings held in the New Scotland Avenue laboratory buildings yesterday and today was on the public health significance of the important wartime progress in developing methods for the preparation of derivatives of human blood for preventive and curative uses. Dr. Charles A. Janeway, professor of pediatrics at the Harvard Medical School and physician in chief of the Children's Medical Center, Boston, delivered the principal address. Papers were read on the scientific program.

Do You Remember

by
SOPHIE MILLER

Here's some items from Bill Jordan's files of May 1, 1897. Who remembers when the employees of the George Hauck Brewing Co. held a limburger fest? Dr. H. A. Starkey, the genial manager of the Sleightsburgh Ferry (known by most of us, I guess, as the Skillypot) had gone into the poultry business as a sideline and discussed with Skillypot passengers about his 350 spring chicks?

May 5, 1897, the Hudson River Telephone Co. at their recent meeting which took place at Albany, decided to supply all the offices of their company along the river with asbestos blankets and a pair of sand, to be used in case of emergency in smothering a fire.

The police commissioners at their monthly meeting of May 4, 1897, decided to allow the members of the local police force an extension of their regular annual furlough of one week with pay, for three days without pay, if they so desired.

Who remembers the old bicycle and footrace? May 5, 1897, the Century Cycle Club was planning to hold a 10-mile road race on the Saugerties road. While on May 6, of that year, the foot race from the Saugerties post office to the Kingston post office was to be reported. William Anderson, William Kenny and David Van Tas sell, all of Hightstown, put up $10 with $50 going to the winner. They were to start from Saugerties on Main street at 6 p. m. and the race was to go, as you please, until the winners reached the corner of Fair and John streets in Kingston. If Thursday turned out to be a rainy day, the race would take place the first fair day.

The circus was coming to town in May 1897 and F. H. Griffiths had the contract to furnish the Forepaugh-Sells circus with about 25 tons of feed for the animals.

Alderman Irwin's new hotel on the Strand had just installed the Weissbach lights and they say it was very effective. Ex-Alderman John Weiss's place on Broadway, facing Union street, was extending the stoop for the convenience of his customers. Alderman Lenahan shot an Alaska loon which was displayed in the show window of the Colonial Hotel. It is said he shot it while on a hunting expedition at Lake Katrine, and he being an expert sharpshooter caught it in flight. (May 1897).

Reading through the Common Council bills of April 6, 1897, here's one from G. W. Parrish, for laying carpet in the chief of police's room where fire alarm was put in. Laying of carpet in mayor's room amounted to $4.40. (I don't know if the chief of police's office was included in that amount.)

Baffled by Courts

New York, May 12 (AP)—The court system in New York state might be understood more easily if the names of some courts were changed to fit their functions, a judge said last night. Charles S. Desmond, associate judge of the Court of Appeals, told a dinner of the Bronx County Bar Association that the layman is baffled "by the different titles of the courts exercising original jurisdiction." He said it also might be a good idea to look into the possibility of merging some courts to simplify the court structure in the state.

Could Save Money Forgetting Eisler, But U. S. Will Not

Washington, May 13 (AP)—If it weren't for the principle involved, Uncle Sam could save quite a sum of money by just looking the other way while Communist Gerhart Eisler apparently flees across the seas.

But, said Justice Department officials today, they are determined to bring back a stowaway identified as Eisler so they can later ship him overseas officially—assuming he is Eisler. This is their reasoning:

The 52-year-old admitted communist owes this country time in prison for violating its laws while living here as an alien guest. And while the department frankly will be delighted to exclude him from the United States forever, it insists upon doing this through the regular procedure: By a deportation action which already is in motion.

Hence, elaborate arrangements have been completed for interception of the stowaway aboard the Polish liner, Batory, en route to England. Scotland Yard was instructed by the F.B.I. to meet the ship when the F.B.I. Eisler was free on $23,500 bail on federal charges. (NEA Telephoto) is indeed the Eisler under two criminal sentences and described as the one-time No. 1 non-official Communist in the United States, Justice officials have asked the State Department to obtain a quick extradition authority from the British government.

Arrangements have been made for a plane to fly Eisler back at once.

All of this involves new expense, whereas—if he were allowed to go his way—his bondsmen in this country would lose to the Treasury the $23,500 they put up to obtain his liberty pending final disposition of the legal cases against him.

And, on the assumption that he

Acra Man Reports Oil on His Land

Allen Bailey of Acra, owner of a log camp and saw mill at South Durham Mountain has discovered oil on his Greene property, but whether it can be developed into a "paying proposition" remains to be proven, he reported Thursday.

Bailey has had a representative of the Sugo Oil Co. looking over his land for the past several days, and his investigation has indicated oil, and the possibility it may be there in quantity according to the Catskill Daily Mail.

Bailey said he first discovered the bubbling effects of the oil some months ago, when he moved along the logging road to repair a bridge over a small stream. This discovery was made by the appearance of what seemed to be substance similar to crank case oil, and he traced the bubbles for a mile along the road.

He owns 300 acres of land along the mountain he advised, and believes oil also undoubtedly exists in adjacent land owned by Harry Duro, Kip Bogardus and the state. He declared representatives of Sugo and the state planned to further investigate the land and its possibilities.

plot Negroes for political purposes.

The following facts about the case were brought out at the nine-week trial—longest in county history:

Horner was beaten to death the morning of Jan. 27, 1948, in the rear of his second-hand furniture store. His wife, Elizabeth, 58, was also beaten but recovered.

Two witnesses said they saw three Negroes leave the store at the time of the murder. However, testimony varied as to the height of the men and exact color of their skin.

Convicted were Collis English, 23; Ralph Cooper, 23; McKinley Forrest, 35; John McKenzie, 24; Horace Wilson, 37; and James Thorpe, 24. English, Forrest and McKenzie are related. Thorpe had lost an arm in an automobile accident one week before the slaying.

Reds Report . . .

the only inter-zonal cargo traffic cleared to the Soviet zone.

Payment Demanded

German officials in the British zone said they were demanding that western firms "prove" they will be paid in full for any goods they deliver to the eastern zone.

They demand that all sales be on a cash basis.

Wilkinson said that at a four-power meeting of economic chiefs here, yesterday the Russian representative insisted on a formal order reinstating the east-west trade agreement of 1948. The allies contend it is no longer applicable, he said. Wilkinson said another meeting may be held today.

"We told him east Germans were welcome to buy or sell anything they wanted with the west Germans and that the western powers would not restrict inter-zonal trade," Wilkinson said. "All individual contracts made by German firms under the 1948 agreement could be revived if the firms so wished. But he kept insisting that the 1948 agreement had to be officially reinstated as of March 1 last year."

However, one source of friction—a dispute over exports from Berlin to the western zones—seemed to have been removed.

Wilkinson said he learned through press reports that west German officials were rigidly limiting cargoes to eastern Germany, and that the British started the reports. He said these officials were "off the beam" in demanding that shippers receive cash payment from eastern customers and in prohibiting all barter deals. He said he would start an investigation immediately.

The Soviets had incurred western wrath yesterday by refusing to allow trucks from west Berlin to travel to the western occupation zones for obtaining permits for the Soviet military or the Russian-backed German Economic Commission. West Berlin and west Germany are separated by 100 miles of Russian-controlled territory, the geographical fact which made the blockade possible.

However, early today west Berlin police cited the Russian checkpoint outside Berlin as saying such trucks now need only an order from the west Berlin government.

There was no official announcement of the change, and the proof of it will lie in what happens when there is an actual test.

Meanwhile fresh food shipments from the western zone were pouring into west Berlin without interference by the Russians. Trucks loaded with produce were coming through at 10 to 15 minute intervals, and rail shipments of food and coal were moving smoothly. The Russian-controlled Berlin radio said more than 140,000 tons of foodstuffs and other supplies were moving toward Berlin from the Soviet zone in barges.

The Hudson river institution now has 4,773 patients.

The six contract awards were announced jointly by the State Public Works Department and the State Mental Hygiene Commission.

Merritt, Chapman & Scott Corp. of New York city will handle the main construction job under a $3,538,931 contract.

Other contracts awarded: Heating, Whitney Dierks Heating Corp. of Poughkeepsie, $523,300; sanitary work, Novak & Rehner, Inc. of New York city, $519,214; electric work, Kaplan Electric Co. of New York, $388,974; electric elevators, Westinghouse Electric Corp. of New York, $119,111, and refrigeration, H. J. Brandeels Corp. of Utica, $20,240.

State Department

Japan was taken without prior consultation with the 12 other nations which make up the policy-making Far Eastern Commission. The commission members have thus far been unable to agree on a common Japanese reparations policy.

The State Department said this disagreement made it necessary for the United States to act alone in this instance. The department said it was certain the action would be bitterly attacked by some of the other countries on the commission. The attack is expected on the grounds that (1) the American decision shuts off reparations which these countries need for their own reconstruction and (2) this country is pushing Japanese reconstruction to the east.

The German policies of the western powers will come up for review in the Council of Foreign Ministers in Paris, opening May 23. It is expected they will then be assailed, as usual by Russia, and will again be subject to world review against the background of the council discussion.

Tillson Man Held On Morals Charge Involving Child

A search by sheriff's men resulted in the arrest early Thursday afternoon of Harold R. Dore, 27, of Tillson on a morals charge, Sheriff George C. Smith reported.

Acting on information supplied at 9:30 a. m. by a small boy, Sheriff Smith and all available deputies combed the Tillson area until they found Dore, who the sheriff said answered the description furnished by the boy, on a farm in that area.

Dore was arraigned at 4 p. m. Thursday before John M. Cashion, county judge of Ulster county sitting as a committing magistrate, on a charge of violating section 48-a of the penal law, which the sheriff said deals with carnal abuse of a child. Dore waived examination and was ordered held for grand jury action.

The boy, whose name was withheld, was not injured, the sheriff said. The act was allegedly committed in the town of Esopus some time prior to 9:30 a. m. Thursday.

30 Persons Felled and New York Port Authority fire-fighting crews attacked the blazing truck with flame-extinguishing chemicals. Their efforts were hampered at first by the cars that were left stranded in the tube.

A motorist said about 18 cars were inside the tube when the blasts occurred.

The blast in the tube under the Hudson river disrupted telephone service to New England and the far west.

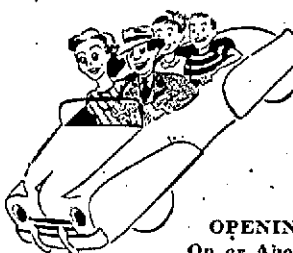

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company said it understood five of its long line cables and one cable of the New York Telephone Company were affected.

The Jersey Bell Telephone reported that hundreds of its circuits were disrupted. Lines affected extended from New Jersey to New York and from New Jersey to New England and the far west.

The A. T. and T. said that its disturbance line run to Philadelphia and another to Reading, Pa. It estimated that traffic delays on some telephone traffic would extend up to three hours.

Radiant Glass Heat Being Installed Here

The R-D Electric Co., Inc., of 206 Tremper avenue, an electrical contracting firm headed by Robert A. Donnaruma, announces that it is now prepared to heat homes in this area entirely by electricity.

Dealers for the Continental Radiant Glass Heating Corp., manufacturers of radiant glass heat, the R-D Company recently completed an installation of radiant glass heat in the home of a prominent garage owner and truck dealer here.

While this type of heat can be installed in all rooms of a house it also makes an ideal auxiliary type of heat, it is pointed out. An advertisement appearing in the Freeman points out that radiant glass heat is the "cleanest, safest heat there is" and no maintenance or replacement costs are necessary.

The glass panel unit consists of three, simple parts, the heating element is a plate of tempered glass approximately one quarter inch thick, into which is fused a continuous aluminum grid. This glass plate is mounted with ceramics in an aluminum reflector plate with an air space between it and the glass. This unit is mounted in an attractive steel frame. The frame is finished with a prime coat of paint so that it can be repainted to match any interior decorative scheme.

Named After British Navigator Mount Rainier, Washington, was named after a friend of Cap. George Vancouver, British navigator and explorer who sighted it in 1792.

EMPLOYMENT

Chicago, Ill., May 13.—During the war, because many of our best American workers were called into active duty, the least efficient workers among us were able to find and hold jobs. Many companies suffered actual losses, running as high as 50 per cent, on the "output per man hour" during the years between 1940 and 1944. The first ranks of the present unemployed are largely made up of these individuals.

The second group of unemployed begin to reflect the leveling off of production schedules; supply has now caught up with demand in many businesses. Also, high prices and the election results in November have retarded purchasing. Losses caused by the storms this winter along with shipment difficulties have also resulted in more unemployment. We see this for instance in textiles, rubber products, radios and phonographs, motor vehicles, shoes, hardware, and furniture. I expect to see unemployment increase several millions more as we move into 1950.

Labor-Management Relationship

This, therefore, is a vital time for both employers and employees to take inventory of their relationship to each other. As business becomes more difficult and competition more challenging it is very important that all friction be avoided. How can an employee best keep his job? Where should he look for another job should he feel to keep his present one? How can the employer meet the challenge of dropping prices and still maintain the quality and the appeal of his product? These questions can be answered only by increased employee-employer cooperation.

Suppose a union contract says that a company may take a month to decide about keeping a new employee. After the end of that trial period a drop comes in that man's efficiency. Repeat this on a large scale and business is injured. The men who demand the union contract must keep not only the letter, but also the spirit of the contract. It is such integrity and moral honesty which inspires a company to keep every employee it possibly can.

Improve Employee Efficiency

Reports of layoffs and curtailments in some industries already have resulted in improved work in other industries. A fear of the future, however, forms an unhealthy incentive for the worker in the sense that worry and anxiety tear down morale. Some of the ideal ways which have been found to improve efficiency are mentioned below:

(1) Better equipment and tools. (2) Worker training programs—with a definite aim in mind. (3) Company-paid accident and sickness benefits. (4) Careful selection of new employees. Wise employers, with an eye for reliability, will be extra careful during 1949 in hiring new workers. (5) Adoption of "incentive systems," bonuses, etc. (6) Showing employees how their future is directly connected with the company's success.

Business Opportunities

Real Americans have too much pride to live very long on the money earned and paid in taxes by their hard working neighbors. The conscientious unemployed will be looking for new businesses. There are too many people in law and other over-crowded professions, but more nurses are needed, more dentists and more veterinarians. With a greatly increased U. S. birthrate, plus the fact that Americans are living longer, businesses which cater to the very young and the elderly should grow. Anything to do with day-camp, day camps, kindergartens, day-sitting should be profitable! The older population is very susceptible to travel agencies, beauty parlors, adult education courses. Good salesmen, accountants, bookkeepers and typists continue in demand. And, of course, we all know the need for good teachers.

I have mentioned here possibilities for jobs in fields which are uncrowded. Almost all of them, you may notice, from the veterinarian to the teacher, offers the worker a chance not only to serve himself, but to greatly serve others. In a survey made many years ago our people were asked, "What, in your life, has given you the greatest happiness?" By far the majority of answers came back "My Work." Would most Americans give the same answer today?

Pay Bill Is Approved
Washington, May 13 (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee unanimously approved today a bill to boost the pay of members of the armed forces. The vote was 28 to 0 after Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) read a letter from Defense Secretary Louis Johnson approving the measure and stating that the budget bureau, speaking for the President, has no objection. The bill, estimated to cost $406,000,000 a year, probably will go before the House for debate late this month. It is expected to run into a barrage of opposition from members urging economy on all federal spending fronts.

More Abundant Life
The recommendations were preceded by a statement that "the church is divinely commissioned to bear witness to the Lord. She must subject all of her life, all human institutions, all national and international policies and programs, to scrutiny in the light of the Christian revelation. Her commission commits the church to seeking for all men a more abundant life. . . . In the hope that they reflect the light which is in our Lord, we make these suggestions as to the witness of the church to our times."

The report of the commission was presented on the floor of the convention by Alfred H. Coons of Beacon, conference statesman, who moved its adoption.

Although Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, president of the conference, informed the delegates that the report was privileged to consider the report paragraph by paragraph, there was no discussion. A vote was then taken by show of hands and the report declared adopted without a negative vote cast.

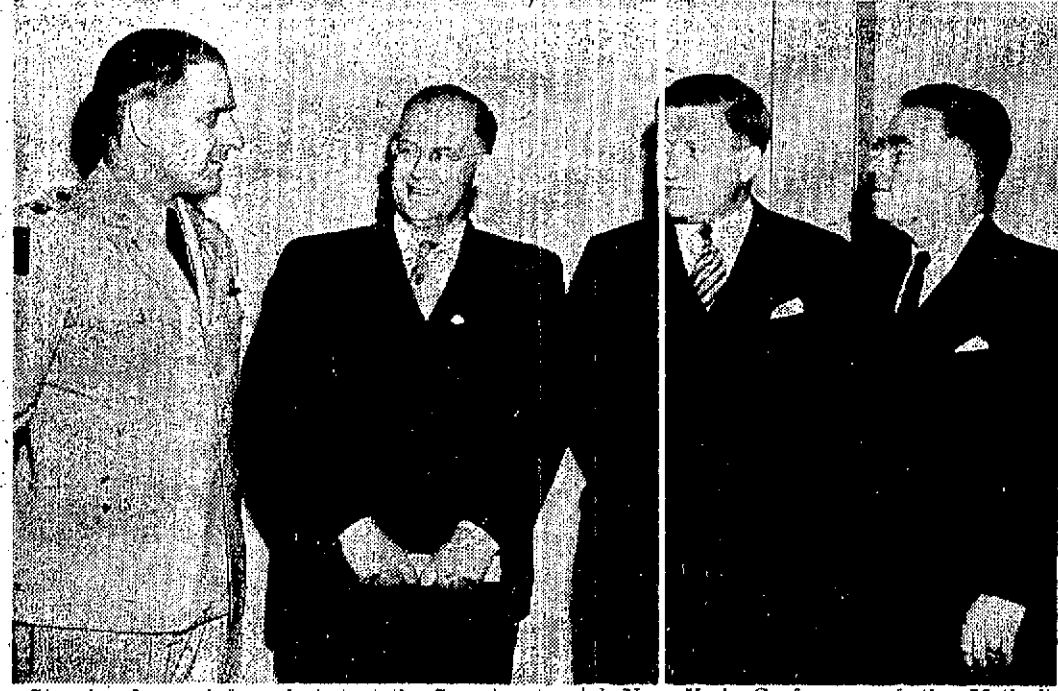

Approval of the report in its entirety without discussion of any of its points came as a surprise to conference leaders. The report was offered one-half hour before the scheduled adjournment of the evening session and Bishop Oxnam indicated that debate could be continued Friday morning. However, within 15 minutes the final vote had been taken and the report adopted.

The Commission on Social Education and Action, framers of the report, was created by the New York Conference in 1948, and consisted of about 25 members of the conference.

Plan Is Included
In its recommendations to local churches, the commission included a plea to make social education and action a part of the local church's program. "The Church may foster earnest study by various vocational groups in relevance of their Christian profession to their vocational tasks. The Church should challenge its membership to scrutinize the investment of money, the purchase of consumer goods and the making of political decisions from a distinctively Christian viewpoint."

ing legislation, raising the minimum wage, as a step in the right direction.

5. We must find ways of providing for all employable men and women the opportunity to earn their support by honest, creative effort. This will require the fullest cooperation of industry, labor, agriculture and the government.

6. National Health Insurance, as proposed by the bill now being studied in Congress ($1320) is a method of securing complete medical care for all persons, in all diseases, by a pre-payment plan. We feel that the bill deserves our study and support.

7. World relief on a wide and increasing scale must continue. We commend and ask support for the cooperative project of the church, Church World Service.

8. As concrete evidence of our spirit of brotherhood and our willingness to play the part reasonably expected of us, we urge that the "Displaced Persons Act" be modified and put into effect to serve its intended purpose. Discrimination on grounds of occupation should be eliminated. Other requirements for eligibility should be made more liberal and the number of displaced persons who may be admitted to the United States should be increased.

9. The Christian Church should encourage and support our government in taking its part in the U.N. courageously and without reservations. . . . We must recognize that we are all citizens of the world, as well as of the United States, and that our nation, with others, must yield some sovereignty to the U.N. if peace is to be preserved.

10. The church must deplore the current persecution of its leaders in many Communist-controlled countries. However, to demand violent counter measures in reprisal is contrary to the Christian way. The United States should be foremost among the many nations in opposing these inhuman manifestations of Communism. . . . If a course of action is followed which leads to war, the resulting suffering and human degradation may far outweigh all of the injustices which war was expected to correct. It is important that everything possible be done to overcome the prevailing antagonisms by peaceful means.

The recommendations were preceded by a statement that "the church is divinely commissioned to bear witness to the Lord. Pastor's Resignation Accepted by Body

The resignation of the Rev. Herbert Killinger, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church in this city, was accepted by delegates to the New York Conference of the Methodist Church meeting in this city this morning. Mr. Killinger has been in the ministry 41 years.

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, presiding at the conference, said the Rev. Mr. Killinger and other serving ministers of the conference will be honored at a special service at the conference at 11:30 a. m. Saturday at St. James Methodist Church.

"The local church has the opportunity to create favorable public opinion for the extension of basic human rights and justice to all people and to unceasing local improvement in this field."

"The local church can promote peace by combating prevalent cynicism, fear and suspicion, through study and discussion groups and other programs which can deepen understanding of the purpose, structure, accomplishments and difficulties of the U.N. and its related agencies."

Urging further adoption in local churches of the "organized method for making friendly neighborly visits" by lay church members willing to spend one or two evenings each month in the work of the church.

The plan, already tried with success in the conference area, consists of a consultation with at least six lay members willing to give of their time monthly meetings of this group with the minister for prayer and discussion, follow-up visits and the compilation of statistical data.

Lay members who do not like visiting should spend their time studying further methods of cooperating with the local press, editing and writing church newsletters and bulletins, Stromberg said.

Smith Is Sentenced
Albany, N. Y., May 13 (AP)—Howard A. Smith, Jr., 21-year-old Gloversville soldier, was sentenced today to serve 35 years to life in Clinton prison for the "Japanese noose" slaying of a state employee last September. Smith had pleaded guilty Tuesday to a reduced charge of second degree murder in the death of Theodore F. Allen, 51, of Goshen. In sentencing Smith, County Judge Earl H. Gallup said: "I have read the confession of the defendant and feel that the circumstances of the case justify acceptance of a plea of murder in the second degree. I don't feel, however, that the disposition should be very lenient."

Students Hear How Industry Research Makes Better Life

The whole country profits when industrial research develops new products, Miss Arretta Lynch Watts, eastern district representative of the extension division of the du Pont company told Myron J. Michael School pupils at an assembly program Thursday.

Invited to give a talk on a preview of chemical developments in industries of the nation, Miss Watts spent two hours in the school, which she called "the finest I've ever visited. . . . all are so happy and seem to enjoy their work."

She had on display scores of chemical products some so recently out of the laboratory that there is yet no known commercial use for them.

Miss Watts pointed out that as they stand now, they are only possibilities in the great number of developments that business and industry believe will contribute to a still higher standard of living for everyone.

She told about "Oilon," a tough fibre with its resistance to sunlight which may be used for awnings, automobile tops and other outdoor uses.

Research chemists take such basic raw materials as coal, salt, water and air, she said, and use their elements like building blocks in producing new things. The world never stands still, at least under the American system, she stressed.

The speaker traced the development of cellophane back to 1926 and explained how its manufacturing costs was reduced to the point where it now is used extensively as a wrapping material and for other commercial purposes.

It has made scores of new businesses, Miss Watts said, furnished employment for many more workers and has made an enormous contribution to raising the living standards of the nation.

She talked about synthetic rubber, the development of nylon, rayon and other products that come from industrial laboratories.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 13 (AP)—Demand for copper stocks helped to live up to a drowsy market today.

Advances in the red metal group ranged to around a point. Elsewhere fractional gains and losses were fairly evenly distributed and numerous stocks remained at Thursday's closing levels.

Aside from a mild flurry of activity at the opening bell, trading was slow.

Buying of copper stocks apparently hinged on reports that a series of price cuts in refined copper had finally stirred up a little demand.

Phelps Dodge and Kennecott rose a point or so at one time and smaller improvement was noted in Anaconda, Cerro de Pasco, and American Smelting.

Another Russian 'First'

Moscow, May 13 (AP)—The Russians added the loop-the-loop to their list of "firsts" today. Komosol Pravda, organ of the young Communist League, said a Russian aviator, Peter Nikolaevich, first performed the feat. No date was given. The paper also claimed Nikolaevich made the world's first long-distance flight when he flew from Kiev to St. Petersburg—780 miles—in 1914. Komosol Pravda said the trip took one day. The flier made several stops along the way. The World Airmanic says that in 1911, C. P. Rogers flew about 3,000 miles from New York city to Pasadena, Calif., in 84 hours and two minutes.

Safest Year of Life

New York, May 13 (AP)—The age of eleven is the safest year of life, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians say. At that happy age, the company said yesterday, the hazards of infancy and early childhood have passed and chronic disorders have not begun to take their toll.

begin to take their toll. The statisticians, according to the statisticians, the probability of surviving from one birthday to the next diminishes slightly with each advancing year.

May Convene at Night
Hudson, N. Y., May 13 (AP)—Court sessions may be held tonight and tomorrow in an effort to complete a jury for the first degree murder trial of two young cousins. Two jurors and two alternates still were to be selected as the trial of Richard Harvell and Lawrence W. Allgood entered its ninth day. Harvell, 18, of Hudson and Allgood, 20, of Union, N. J., are accused of slaying Martin M. Kittell, 48, a Hudson businessman last November 21. Sixty-eight veniremen reported today for examination before Justice Isadore Bookstein of State Supreme Court. Fifty reported yesterday, but none were accepted. Six were examined and 26 were excused. The remaining 18 were directed to come back today with a new group of 50. Ten jurors have been seated. Those reporting today will raise to 461 the number called since the trial opened May 3.

Newburgh Driver Held After Ride Given Prisoners

Auburn, N. Y., May 13 (AP)—Three Auburn prison convicts who reputedly hitched a ride with a transcontinental motorist will be returned from Kirkwood, Mo.

Public Cooperation Needed for Health

Incorporation of social hygiene into the programs of local tuberculosis and health associations has helped inestimably in the gigantic task of public education, declared Philip Mather, president of the American Social Hygiene Association at the annual conference of the state and local committees on tuberculosis and public health of the New York State Charities Aid Association at the Commodore Hotel on Wednesday.

"Some of the best examples of the results of community action are found in the record of New York State's social hygiene activities," he said.

"A decade ago, many cities of the Empire State tolerated prostitution," he said. "In the capital district, Albany and Troy, brothels and other phases of the racket thrived."

"Gradually public opinion became aroused. Repressive measures were instituted, and today Troy, the entire capital district, and most communities in New York state are vigorously attacking commercialized prostitution," he continued.

At the same time, in other areas of the nation and Alaska, commercialized prostitution is making a postwar comeback, he said, citing surveys made by the American Social Hygiene Association of prostitution conditions in several hundred communities within the past year.

Citizen action on a broad basis, in the pattern developed by New York groups, is needed to hold back the rising tide of prostitution and to achieve the goals of social hygiene, he declared.

"A community gets the kind of social hygiene law enforcement its citizens demand," he declared, pointing out that "this axiom could well be applied to the whole range of social hygiene activities for whatever is done—whether family life education, or public information, law enforcement, legislation, or VD prevention and control, to be truly effective . . . must be for, by and of the people."

The program of the American Social Hygiene Association, established 35 years ago, was recently studied by a special committee, he added. Pointing out that a great deal has been accomplished in the 35 years of the association's existence in this country, and under the leadership of association executives in global social hygiene efforts as well, he declared that achievement of social hygiene goal depends on gaining the broadest public cooperation.

Citing the difficulties of educating the public in the old days of "taboos," he said that the current dissemination of information on venereal diseases' control through newspapers, radio and films is a sign of great progress.

Similarly, the passage of laws to repress prostitution, and to safeguard health through premarital and prenatal examinations in a major part of the nation is a sign of progress.

"One of the most encouraging developments in the social hygiene story," he said, "is the growth of parent-school-church desire and effort to give young people the right background and training for marriage and family life."

All professors are supposed to be absent-minded, but this one was worse than usual. He was out one day and vaguely remembered that he had to get his wife some preserving jars. He walked into a store and saw some displayed upside-down on a counter. He looked at them and said:

Professor—Absolutely useless. The things have no mouths. Then he picked one up and looked at the other end: Professor (muttering)—Absurd! Absolutely absurd! They have no bottoms, either.

Success came from hanging on after everyone else has let go.

Reader—Humph! I could write a news story as good as this, if I had a mind to.

Editor—Sure, but that's exactly what you lack.

Customer—Say, this hair restorer you sold me didn't grow a single hair on my head.

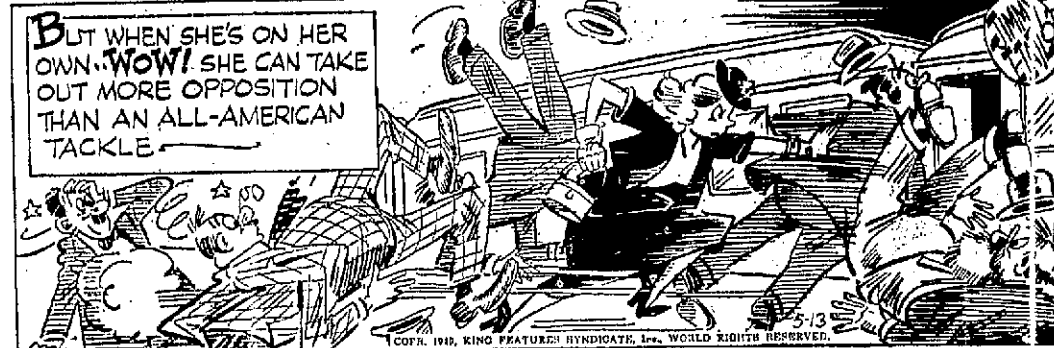

Barber—Maybe not, but it has a nice cooling effect. When it runs down around your ears, doesn't it?

Woolworth to Use Newspaper Ads

In the first such undertaking in its 70-year history, F. F. Woolworth & Co. will launch a coast-to-coast newspaper campaign to advertise branded merchandise. Although the multi-million dollar chain store operation has used magazine advertising before and has announced store opening in dailies, it has never used daily publications to advertise merchandise.

The company is planning a test campaign of three advertisements to appear in 325 newspapers in 210 cities. The drive will be timed to coincide with Memorial Day, Father's Day and the Fourth of July.

The company official said that the company is seeking experience in the advertising of branded merchandise. "The purpose of the May and June promotion is to gain further experience in local advertising," he said. "Sales results in the cities selected will be carefully measured and compared with sales in cities where no advertising is run."

The schedule will be released in five of the twelve Woolworth districts: Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis and San Francisco. The retail division of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association cooperated with the company in planning the campaign. Lynn Baker, Inc., is the advertising agency handling the drive.

SHOKAN

Shokan, May 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fiecke, Bronx couple who resided at the John W. Jones farmhouse on the mountain road three years ago, spent Monday and Tuesday here. Herb has been employed by the Borden company at their Bronx depot for the past several years. Mrs. Fiecke reports that her father, who suffered a stroke two years ago, remains about the same. The couple's elder son, Charles, expects to enter the navy in June.

Former residents calling in the village Tuesday included Weidner Davis who was born and brought up on the west side of the Esopus Creek at Boiceville. Weidner, who resides near Kingston, is engineer on a tugboat plying between New York and Buffalo. He reports that his oldest brother, Millard Davis of Kerkhousen, is in good health this spring.

Andrew Johnson, whose father, Doctor Johnson, is a close friend of Mr. and Mrs. Denis T. Lynch, is spending a few days at the Lynch summer home near Tice TenEyck Mountain. The young man has had pretty good luck with the fishing thus far in his sojourn here.

Birthdays coming on soon include those of Mrs. Martin Oliver, Gulnick of Ashokan and Harold Carlson of Shokan, on May 14 and May 16, respectively. . . . Olive's early home was the George Barclay place on Tonche Mountain until the family bought and occupied the Mose Palen house near the Ashokan schoolhouse. She is president of the M. L. Church in the N. S. and has held offices in the N. S. 4 school district. She has three children, Jane, George and Mary. . . . Harold, born in Brooklyn, is the son of Theodore and Catherine H. Carlson and for the past two years has made his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gelbohn, in the village center. A graduate of the Ashokan school, he attends the Kingston High School and is a member and chorale boy of the Woodstock Lutheran Church.

Want to see the great-granddaddy of the modern farm tractor? Take a drive up to the Farmer's Museum at Cooperstown where one of the first tractors (made in 1901) will be on exhibition this month. This ancient piece of machinery features a smokestack which also served as its radiator.

Harry Personius, local K.H.S. student, has pitched the local baseball team to four consecutive wins, one of which was a no-hit affair. Harry, though obviously not the conventional lean and lanky type of moundman, nevertheless apparently "has what it takes."

James Rutherford with his new tractor, a small one, busy plowing and harrowing the gardens for residents of the two villages. Oscar Sheila, latest newcomer to Shokan (George Kelder excepted) broke ground for a garden this week. Oscar was properly amazed at the wealth of stones and rocks which—as revealed by the plowman's art—lies beneath the surface of certain mountain soil.

Bird Builds Its 'Castle' in the Air

James Worsham, of Powhatan, Va., was more than a little surprised to find a bird's nest under the eaving of his private plane, top. He discovered the nest, complete with three eggs (below), when he landed in Richmond, Va., to have his motor checked. Twigs, straw and feathers were wound tightly around ignition wires to make the nest secure. Worsham took his plane back to Powhatan and parked it in the same spot, hoping the air-minded mother bird would come back to it.

Musical Society Has Study Meeting on Composer Sibelius

A study meeting concerning the life and music of Jean Sibelius was held at Musical Society Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. William Burke, 130 Washington avenue. The Misses Jane and Ethel Mauterstock were in charge.

They took their material from a book by Elliott Arnold and spoke in particular of the composer's great love for his country. Although many think that folk songs are incorporated in the compositions, Sibelius claims that this is not true but that his themes express the feelings of the people.

He has lived most of his life in Finland and is now working on his 8th symphony at the age of 84. During the war he and his family were sent from their home at 2 a. m. one morning by the Russians but finally were able to return.

The program noted that Sibelius did not realize how famous a musician he had become until his first trip to the United States where he was met at the pier by newspaper reporters and later as he was honored at a Norwalk, Conn., estate where the owner arranged three special concerts in his honor.

Probably his famous compositions are his Violin Concerto and 4th symphony and the most popular Finlandia.

Mrs. William Rylance played Finlandia as a piano number and when the hymn tune was reached those attending rose to their feet in honor of the composer.

During the business meeting at which Miss Ethel Mauterstock presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. LeRoy Vogt, the social committee for next year was named, Mrs. Lester Decker, Miss Caroline Little and Miss Edna Merrill.

Miss Lulu Roberts was announced as a new member and Mrs. Suzanne Langer as an associate member. Suggestions were made for the program next year.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Henry Millonig and Mrs. Vogt.

The next meeting, May 25, will be an open meeting and each member will be given the privilege of bringing a guest. The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Arthur Sheldon, West Chestnut street, and the program will be early English music. Members are asked to notify Mrs. John Snyder, telephone 4758, whether or not they will be present and to make reservations for their guests.

Carrier's Skipper Is Found Dead of Bullet Wound

San Francisco, May 13 (AP)—Cdr. Everett O. Riggsbee Jr., skipper of the aircraft carrier Antietam, was found shot to death yesterday in his quarters aboard ship at Hunter's Point naval shipyard. His widow said he had been "terribly overworked and under great strain."

The navy immediately summoned a board of investigation to the ship and declined to make a detailed statement until the board makes public its findings.

Unofficial navy sources, however, said there appeared to be no foul play. The death weapon was reported found near the body.

Homicide inspectors from the San Francisco police department said a bullet from a civilian .38 caliber revolver, fired at a distance of inches, had passed through Riggsbee's head.

Riggsbee, 51, had assumed command of the vessel only ten days ago. He had been executive officer of the 885-foot Essex class carrier since last July.

His widow, Mrs. Helen Riggsbee, told newsmen her husband had left home in good spirits in the morning.

But, she added, he had been terribly overworked and under great strain recently.

"He hadn't had a leave of any length for several years," she said. "We both knew he needed a rest, but he could not see any prospect of leave until the ship was decommissioned."

The carrier is in the process of joining the mothball, or reserve, fleet.

During the recent war Riggsbee commanded Patrol Bombing Squadron 117 and won many decorations with it in the Pacific.

Plan Against Strikes

New York, May 13 (AP)—A plan for curbing strikes on New York city's privately owned transit lines was under study today by city, union and transit company officials. It would provide for an impartial chairman in the industry who would have power to make final and binding decisions in any dispute arising during the life of a contract. The plan, outgrowth of recurrent strikes and strike threats that have plagued major transit lines, was outlined in a report to Mayor William O'Dwyer yesterday by Joseph E. O'Grady, director of the city's labor relations division.

Fleet Forms at Gibraltar

Gibraltar, May 13 (AP)—A fleet of American warships, led by Adm. Richard L. Conolly, is forming at Gibraltar today. He is aboard the carrier Columbus. Half of the assembling ships will sail soon for their home bases in the United States after four months in the Mediterranean, an announcement said. The others will sail to the Mediterranean.

The "Mosquito Fleet" was a small naval squadron selected by Commodore David Porter, in 1823, to wipe out West Indian pirates.

It was charged they entered a premises on West Chestnut street on February 18. Both were represented by Bernard Alderman of New York. They waived the usual 48 hours before sentence and consented to imposition of sentence immediately. In imposing sentence Judge Cashin gave them credit for time already served in jail.

Additional criminal matters will be heard next week, court recessing until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at which time the jurors will return.

A verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $217.80 was returned in a negligence action brought by Harold Withaus against Thorel Andersen for damage to the car of plaintiff which was involved in an accident on route 52. Houghtaling & Barber of Walden appeared for plaintiff and A. J. Cook for defendant.

Settlement was also announced in No. 31, Alfred Manganaro against Joseph P. Linacre, a negligence action. Peter A. Harp for plaintiff and Cook & Cook for defendant.

Paris, May 13 (AP)—Dr. Philip C. Jessup, American ambassador at large, arrive here by plane today for huddles with French and British officials preparatory to the Paris meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers.

Winner in Store Contest

Arthur Grossman, manager of Rudolph's Jewelers, 309 Wall street, presents a $200 diamond watch to Mrs. Emily Curtis of Hindsale street, who was a recent winner in the picture puzzle contest sponsored by the Rudolph concern. The contest was based on an advertisement appearing in The Freeman concerning a sketched scene of the interior of the uptown store. Mistakes were shown in the picture to test the observation aptitude of contestants. In making the presentation, Manager Grossman said Mrs. Curtis submitted the second most original entry. Her entry was a child's dress with the mistakes shown in the picture embroidered on the dress. (Freeman Photo)

Parisians Asked Not to Stare at Her

Paris, May 13 (AP)—Parisians are being asked in advance not to gather in crowds and stare at Britain's Princess Margaret when she pays her first visit to the French capital towards the end of this month.

King Edward VII of England, who loved to stroll along the boulevards like a private citizen when he came to France, is supposed to have once remarked: "Paris is the only city in the world where people have the good breeding not to pay too much attention to those who are too well known."

Now, while Paris newspapers have been printing in detail accounts of how the princess was bothered by too persistent cameramen in Capri, the same newspapers are making a plea that she should not be noticed while here.

"The best way to let the princess appreciate the true face of Paris will be not to bother her by staring curiously and to spare her the assaults of journalists and photographers which so spoiled her stay in Capri and Rome," commented the evening newspaper Paris-Press.

Bristol Owls Stop Colonials 6-1 on Cauvel's Seven-Hitter

Heads Up

Boston U. linemen Irv Heller, left, and Dave Barrett demonstrate new invention of Coach Buff Donelli in workout at Nickerson Field. An elastic strap, fastened to the helmet and to belt circling the waist, keeps the player's head up at all times. Donelli feels that many football injuries are due to the tendency of players to lower their heads during contact.

Avert Shutout In Ninth Inning

The Colonials are learning the hard way that it's difficult to score runs without basehits in baseball.

Last night they came within an eyelash of their third shutout of the season, when the Bristol Owls trounced them, 6-1, in Bristol.

The victory enabled the Owls to continue in a deadlock for first place with the Bridgeport Bees who walloped Stamford, 14-6. The loss was Kingston's eighth in nine starts.

The Bristol series concludes tonight with a single game. The Colonials are scheduled Saturday night against Bridgeport in a single game, followed by a twilight-night doubleheader on Sunday.

Cauvel Impressive

Larry Cauvel, a strong-armed southpaw who had a 10-6 record in 1948, had a four-hit shutout with two outs in the ninth when O'Dell, Elko and Rodriguez exploded successive singles for Kingston's lone tally.

Manager Laviano used rookie right hander Ray Riescher in a starting role for the first time. The tall fireball artist was greeted with a three-run salvo in the first inning but pitched creditably the rest of the way.

Bernier, Bristol's Negro speed demon, had a great night, with two doubles and a single, a run batted in and three stolen bases. The seven Kingston hits were scattered among seven players.

Haefner Slumps

Palmer picked up most of his points at the expense of Chick Harbert, who flew himself to a 76, and Clayton Demaret, the other member of the foursome, carded 73 to bring Johnny's record to 14. Behind Palmer in point totals came Skip Alexander of Lexington, N. C., and Jim Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., each with plus 11. Jimmy Demaret had a plus two and Lloyd Mangrum and Bobby Locke each had a plus one to account for the other players who showed a surplus for the day.

The others finished anywhere from three to 17 points in the red, with Bob Hamilton shyly confessing the last figure. He shot a whopping 78, highest score of the day as Jim Turnesa and Skip Alexander were carding 73's and the other member of the foursome, Dutch Harrison, was getting 75.

Snead Minus Three

Sam Snead and New Orleans' Fred Haas, Jr., were minus three; Harrison minus five; Clayton Haefner minus six; Vic Ghezzi and defending champion Herman Barron minus seven, and Chick Harbert minus ten.

Seven players bettered par, two equaled par figures and seven were above regulation 72.

Behind Nelson, Middlecoff and Palmer in the medal play, which has no bearing on the championship except as a medium for the winning of points, were Alexander, Locke, Mangrum and Turnesa with 71's; Haas and Snead with 72's; Barron, Demaret and Ghezzi with 73's; Harrison and Haefner with 75's; Harbert with 76 and Hamilton with 78.

Dignitaries Attend C.A.A.-C.Y.O. Banquet

Nearly 200 persons jammed Tommie's Tavern on High street for the annual Catholic Athletic Association-C.Y.O. banquet last night. Prizes for various sports during the season were awarded to teams and individuals. Among those at the speakers table were, in usual order, William Ryan, Orange county C.Y.O. director; William R. Miley, regional C.Y.O. director; the Rev. Father Philip J. Murray, assistant archdiocese director; the Rev. Father Henry E. Herdegen, Ulster county C.Y.O. moderator; Andrew T. MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By The Associated Press

By JACK HAND

Mel Parnell's pitching is the only bright spot in the dreary spring showing of the mighty Boston Red Sox.

It took Parnell's brilliant 1-inning victory over Chicago yesterday to pull the Sox up even with last year's sorry opening month.

Down south the wise guy said "Boston can't possibly get off as slowly as last year." They were wrong. As of today Boston has a 9-11 record. Last May 13 their win and lost totals were exactly the same.

Hurlers Flop

Tex Hughson was expected to help Manager Joe McCarthy. So far he hasn't won. Jack Krimer, who copped 11 straight last summer, is still looking for No. 1. So is Joe Dobson, their only consistent winner last spring.

In 21 games, counting one tie, Boston has had only eight complete pitching performances. Parnell threw five of them. He has gone the route every time, losing only once in 12 innings.

Parnell struck out 11 White Sox hitters yesterday but needed an 11th inning homer by Vern Stephens to get off the hook. 2-1. It was his fourth victory. The first two were shutouts and the third an easy 11-2 romp over the New York Yankees with the help of a grand slam homer by Ted Williams.

Tigers Stop Nats

Washington's nine-game winning streak was snapped by Detroit's Virgil Trucks, 2-1. Don Kiley, who joined the Tigers Sunday in a trade with Chicago, blasted two doubles and a triple off Walt Masterson. He scored the first run in the first inning and drove home the winning run in the eighth with a double down the first base line.

Trucks' five-hitter was his fifth triumph of the season.

The St. Louis Browns blasted three home runs to rout Lou Briskie and the Philadelphia A's, 9-3, for their third straight following a 10-game losing string.

Dick Kokos, Bob Dillinger and Ed Pellagrini hit Briskie's home run ball out of the park. Cliff Fanning, making his first start after being sidelined by a sore arm, was nipped for homer by Sam Chapman in the sixth. He retired in the seventh inning when his arm started to bother him.

The New York Yankees and Cleveland were not scheduled.

Giants Blanked

Cincinnati's which stopped the New York Giants' winning surge after seven in a row, made it two straight on a 3-0 shutout by Ken Raffensberger.

Raffensberger's second shutout was a brilliant job. He held the power-hitting Giants to four singles, dropping them into a first place tie with the Boston Braves whose scheduled game with St. Louis was postponed because of wet grounds.

Clint Hartung, who had won his first four, was clipped for eight hits and all the Cincinnati runs in his eight-inning stretch.

Branca Cops Fifth

Ralph Branca became the National League's first five-game winner with an 11-6 verdict over Jiggers, the Cop!

With two outs in the ninth, Duke Snider obliges two youngsters with his autograph after they jumped onto the playing field at Ebbets Field. The boy on the left gives the center fielder the rush act as he eyes the approaching policeman.

Pittsburgh. The unbeaten Brooklyn ace was hit freely throughout the game but outlasted Hal Gregg and four successors.

Carl Furillo led the Dodgers with two doubles and a triple driving in two runs. Roy Campanella hit his fifth homer off Gregg and Wally Westlake accounted for three of the 13 Pirate hits off Branca.

Hank Borowy, traded to the Phillies by Chicago last winter, whipped his old Cub mates for the first time he faced them: 4-3. Bob Rush gave up only six hits but was hurt by Hal Joffe's costly error on Del Ennis' fly that set up the winning score in the sixth.

Bagatelles:

The official report on the X-rays of Yogi Berra's head said they showed nothing. But the guy can hit. If that old chess master, Leo Durocher, pilots the Giants to the National League pennant, we'll have to take to the hills. The composing room and stereotype department will take over the sports page. Frank Demeri's ERA for the last two games is a flat 2.00. City League inaugural Monday between Frank's Sport Shop and Stauble's Bakery. President Jack Dawkins is readying impressive ceremonies.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

They are running the Preakness to see if Ponder has a weakness. According to the rumor mart, "Old Foxy" Mayes, the pectoral proponent is being groomed to drive "Hot Rod" LaLima's "Beauty Special" in the stock car races in Rhinebeck. Without a windshield to obstruct his view, Mayes is expected to prove quite a phenomenon. The horse players are still pondering about that Kentucky Derby upset. Whatever happened to Olympia! The boys waited at the finish line with lanterns until midnight, but he never did show up. Frank Stone's brochure on golf activities at Wiltwyck Golf Club is a honey. More on that later.

Reta Frederick, K.W.B.A. secretary in Columbus, Ohio, for the W.I.B.C. nationals, postcards: What could we do with this in Kingston on a rainy night? (a picture of Ohio State stadium, 78,000 capacity, with roof and all that). (Ed. Note: Ask Ted Laviano. "Saw Syd Levin, ex-Poughkeepsie woman star, now out of California. . . . Lousy town and reception equals the town." Somebody should have tipped her off that citizens of Columbus are interested in only three things, food, sleep and Ohio State football. Once, while in Columbus for an A.B.C. tournament with Lou DePaolo, Gil Sampson, Marty Kellenberger and "Red" Spaulding, we had the gaul to tell our host we thought Minnesota had a better football team than Ohio State . . . and almost got chased out of town at midnight.

The Nineteenth Hole:

The Western Golf Association has published a new caddie manual called "Pin Pointers." It lists 14 basic rules of caddie conduct such as: know all 14 clubs; stand still; keep quiet; replace all divots; keep up with or ahead of the player; never swing clubs, etc. But, if you ask most duffers, and some of the experts, they omitted the most important tip. Don't look at me that way and don't ever divulge to the clubhouse boys my real score. Most caddies are very decent chaps, but once in a while one comes along who obviously thinks the word "caddie" is derived from "cad."

The Phenomenal Bobby Locke:

George Trevor was quoting Jimmy Demaret on the subject of Bobby Locke, the South African who is regarded as the greatest golfer of the day now that Ben Hogan is hors de combat . . . and Sammy Snead is having trouble on the greens.

"A cool, calculating player, Locke is equally proficient in fair weather or foul. He has the shots to cope with the wind and rain. Excessively deliberate, he takes longer to play 18 holes than any of his top notch Yankee colleagues and some of them suffer creeping paralysis following him.

"That guy, Locke is hump-backed from stooping to pick the ball out of the cup," says Demaret. "In all my years of watching golf I've never seen a more deadly putter. In my book Locke's long game is just so-so, but putting wins golf titles, and the South African has a violin maestro's delicate touch.

"Locke is not a bold player," Demaret pointed out. "As a rule, Bob is content to aim for the middle of the green rather than go for the pin. He doesn't gamble on all or nothing shots and hence has a high factor of safety. . . ."

WHAT ARE THE ODDS—A gambler died. The funeral was well attended by his professional friends. In the eulogy the minister asserted: "Splice is not dead. He only sleeps." From the rear of the chapel the interrupting words: "I got $100 he's dead."

MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: Rich will be the man who can tell at the precise moment an ordinary piece of furniture becomes an antique.

Speed Demons Set For Time Trials

Indianapolis, May 13 (AP)—Fifteen classic race cars and America's hardest drivers will be ready to roll tomorrow for $2,500 in special prizes and the pole position for the 500-mile Memorial Day race.

A car must average 115 miles an hour for 10 miles to qualify for the May 30 contest, but it also must be one of the 33 fastest qualifiers. Sixty-six cars have been nominated. Half will be eliminated.

The consensus around Indianapolis Motor Speedway garages is that a driver will have to qualify at well over 125 miles an hour to get into the lineup.

Last year's field was the fastest ever, with each of the first four cars beating the best previous time. Mauri Rose's winning average was 119.813 miles an hour. Every one of the 33 starters had qualified at better than 125 miles an hour—but without traffic.

The 1949 field probably is a little faster than the 1948 record-breakers.

Fusari Slight Choice Over Vince Foster

New York, May 13 (AP)—Vince Foster, hailed as the hottest thing since Rocky Graziano rocketed to fame, returns to Madison Square Garden tonight to face Charlie Fusari in an attractive 10-round welterweight bout.

Fusari, a stand-up blond boxer from Irvington, N. J., probably will be a slight 5 to 6 favorite by ringtime over the stiff punching newcomer from Omaha, Neb. It has been a "pick 'em" fight all week.

Whinnying his appreciation, Mizzen Mast accepts Mrs. Robert B. Wetzel's offer of a couple of aspirin crushed in sugar. Ten Teams Await Initial Games

The City Softball League launches its 1949 campaign with ten teams engaged in five games Monday evening.

Pairings for opening day are: Union House vs. Royal Grill at Block Park; B'nai B'rith vs. Potter Brothers at Lower Hasbrouck; Montgomery Ward vs. Fuller Shilet at Upper Hasbrouck; Schuler's Inn vs. Subway Grill at St. Mary's.

Miron Lumber vs. A. J. Rose at Sailer's Park.

The league will operate in conjunction with the regular program of the City Recreation Department under Andy Murphy III. Jason Goumas is league president. Other officers are Jake Chichelsky, secretary, and Harry Edson, treasurer.

Games will be played every Monday and Wednesday evenings. The championship competition has been simplified this season with two rounds of play scheduled to determine winners of two halves. The two winners then meet in a five game series to designate the city champion.

Kelly Passes Up Sculls Defense

Philadelphia, May 13 (AP)—The United States' greatest oarsman is going to spend his summer motoring through Europe—and that won't give him time to defend his U. S. single sculling championship.

This was disclosed today by Jack Kelly, the youth who won the Diamond Sculls Competition at Henley, England, two years ago. He is going across the sea for another crack at that title—he lost it last year—and then he'll be around the circuit in Europe. Jack said he's going to get into a car, park his single shell at the vehicle, and tour the continent, stopping off every now and then to do some rowing.

The decision was made after Jack talked it over with his mother. She said she thought Jack ought to get acquainted with places and people because he may not have the chance to do so again for a long, long time.

Guarding Records

Jersey City, N. J., May 13 (AP)—Guards were on duty at city hall today to watch over the records of Frank Hague's 32-year reign. They were ordered out by Hudson County Prosecutor Maurice K. Robinson after charged papers had been pulled, still hot, from the basement incinerator in city hall yesterday. Robinson, a Republican, said he couldn't tell whether any official city records were among the burned papers.

HONORED AT YALE

Levi Jackson (above), 25, Yale's Negro football captain, received a coveted campus social honor—membership in one of the six senior secret societies—at the university in New Haven, Conn. He passed up bids by two of the oldest—Skull and Bones and Scroll and Key—to accept membership in Beta Beta Beta.

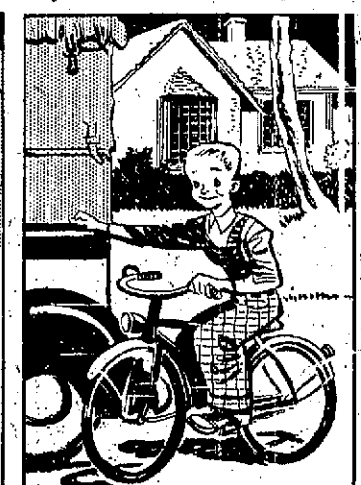

He is the first member of his race ever chosen for one of the societies.

Remember These Do's and Don'ts of Bike Safety

Springtime means bike time all over the country. And bike time means accidents, injuries and even death if youngsters are careless and take unnecessary chances "on the road." Here are some do's and don'ts suggested by the National Safety Council for safe cycling.

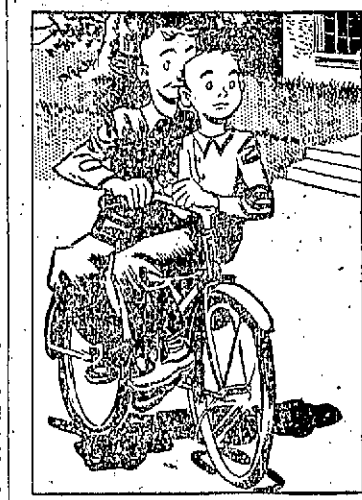

DO use arm signals to warn those behind you intend to slow down, stop or turn. Bicyclists must follow road rules just like motorists.

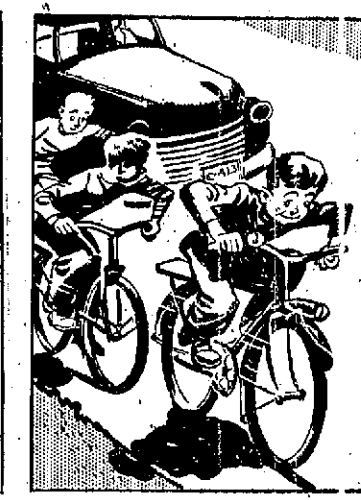

DON'T hitch to moving vehicle of any kind. This is one of the most dangerous bike stunts. It takes many lives and brings countless injuries.

DO have a dependable headlight on front and a good reflector on rear for necessary night riding. Remember—risk goes up as the sun goes down.

DON'T carry passengers on the crossbar or handlebar. Don't break this rule, even for your best girl. This is one of the chief causes of crack-ups.

DO ride single file on the extreme right side of road. Riding abreast or weaving in and out of traffic confuses motorists, boosts chance of accidents.

DON'T ride bike on sidewalks when there are pedestrians or playing children. Dismounting and walking your bicycle around them means safety.

Plans Discussed On School Program
Rosendale, May 13—At a special meeting held in the Tillson school Wednesday evening a discussion took place on the subject of the future of local schools. The meeting was attended by several prominent business men from various sections of the town of Rosendale whose desire was to gather facts and information relative to the increasing population and a resulting increase in school attendance throughout the area. Rapid growth is apparent in all the school districts, and it was clearly indicated that something has to be done to meet it. One subject discussed at length was school centralization within the town of Rosendale. Some figures pertaining to costs and amount of taxes necessary to meet a new building program showed that all districts except one would benefit through less taxes under a central school district. Under the

Huben Elected To Council Post

New York, May 13 (AP)—Prosperous summer travel business in New York state this year is predicted by Harold Keller, commissioner of the State Department of Commerce.
Herbert C. Campbell, director of state publicity, made a similar prediction yesterday at the annual travel forum of the New York State Travel Council.

Reporting on a survey, Campbell said individuals spent 13.5 per cent less last year on travel in the state "but an increase in the number of vacationists * * * kept business up to 1947 levels."

The council elected James F. Gilday, of Syracuse, as president. Others elected: Vice-presidents, W. Grant Mitchell, Alexandria, Bay; Edward M. Huben, Kingston; H. M. Day, Syracuse; Frank W. Kirdel, New York city; and Seymour Miller, Albany. Treasurer, John A. Williams, Syracuse; executive director, Joseph J. Horan, Troy; and executive secretary, Keith Morey, Ithaca.

New York, May 13 (AP)—The C.I.O. Textile Workers Union has scheduled a strike May 31 of 25,000 employees at more than half a dozen rug and carpet mills in New York, Connecticut and New Jersey. The strike date was set after contract talks broke off yesterday.

Los Angeles Shaken By Quake; No Damage

Los Angeles, May 13 (AP)—Los Angeles was shaken early today by an earthquake that startled residents out of bed but apparently caused no damage.

The tremor was a distinct one, being felt most in cities throughout the San Gabriel and San Fernando valleys such as Altadena, Pasadena, Burbank and Glendale. Long Beach, scene of a disastrous quake in 1933, said there was a gentle rumbling there.

It shook buildings in downtown and eastern Los Angeles. Police switchboards were swamped with calls but all of them were anxious queries. The sheriff's office said that it had no reports of damage.

Apparently, the quake was local. San Bernardino, Lancaster, Indio and other cities in Southern California reported that it was un-

Former U. S. Spy Jailed for Fraud

New York, May 13 (AP)—Benno Persitz, 28, who served as a wartime spy for the United States, has been sentenced to 18 months in a U. S. prison.

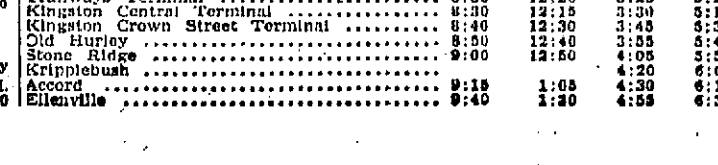

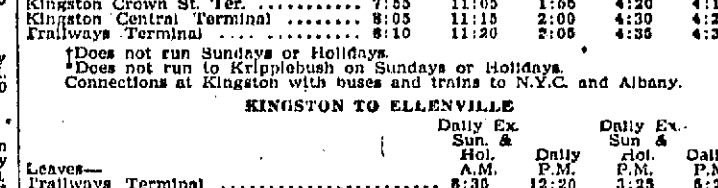

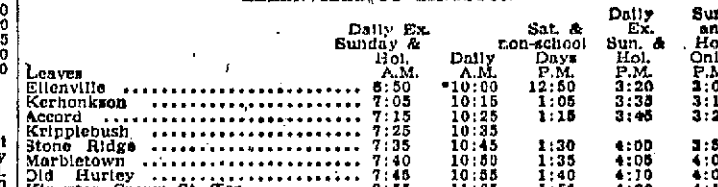

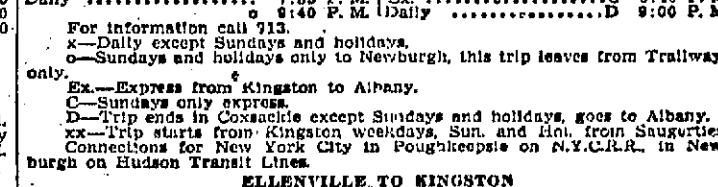

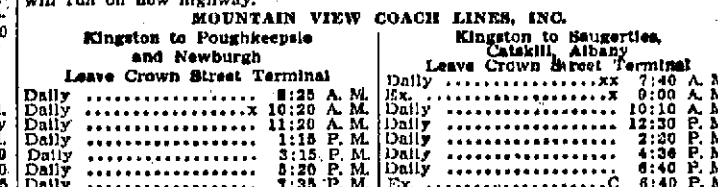

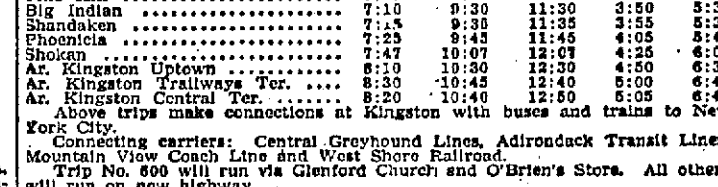

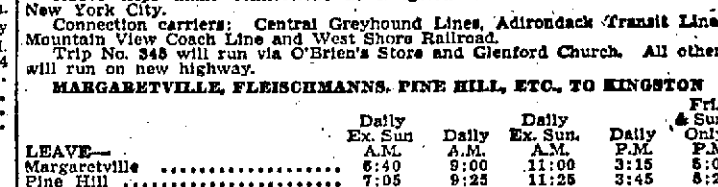

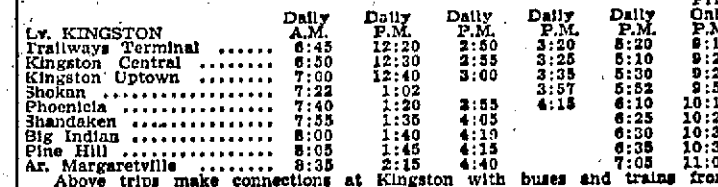

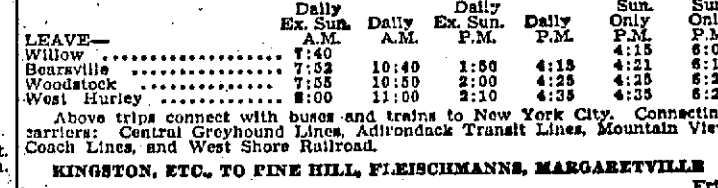

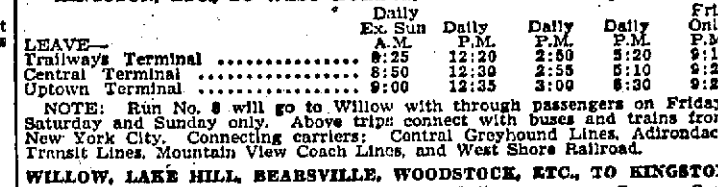

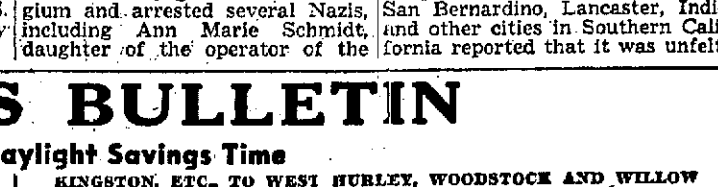

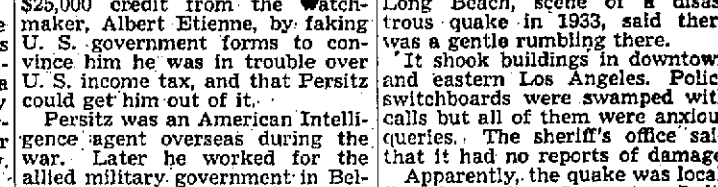

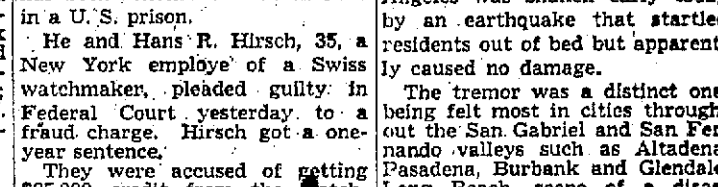

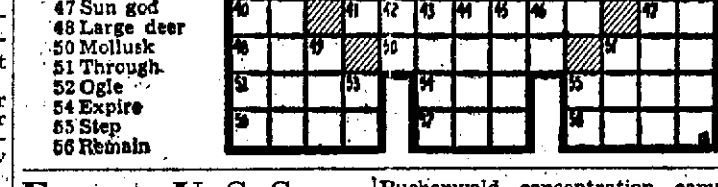

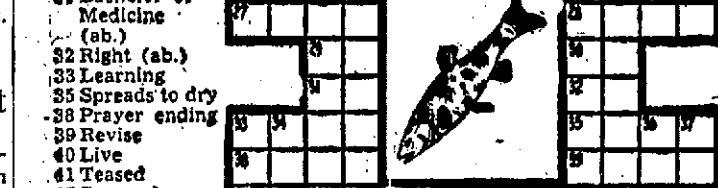

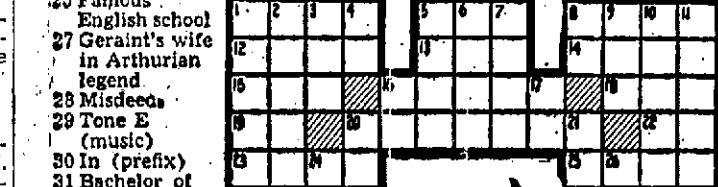

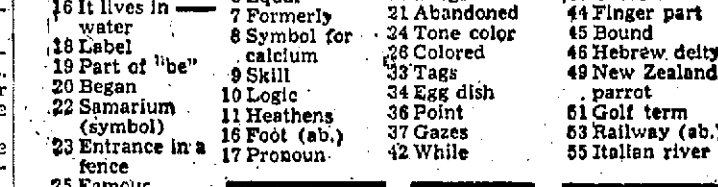

He and Hans R. Hirsch, 35, a New York employee of a Swiss watchmaker, pleaded guilty in Federal Court yesterday to a fraud charge. Hirsch got a one-year sentence.

They were accused of getting $25,000 credit from the watchmaker, Albert Etienne, by faking U. S. government forms to convince him he was in trouble over U. S. income tax, and that Persitz could get him out of it.

Persitz was an American Intelligence agent overseas during the war. Later he worked for the allied military government in Belgium and arrested several Nazis, including Ann Marie Schmidt, daughter of the operator of the

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

When you're traveling, it's always a kick to get your mitts on a copy of a home-town newspaper, and son, when the stewardess on the Pan-Am Clipper to Tokyo handed me a New York Herald Tribune, I buried my head in it as if it were a growler of suds.

After casting pages 1 and 2, I automatically turned to the theatre section and there my optics collided with an item which left me a little alicious: Congressman Javits had a bill before the 81st Congress authorizing the President to spend up to $250,000 in assembling a group to work out a plan for a national theatre, opera and ballet.

When I showed the squib to Eleanor, her comment was, "Fat chance that has of getting by the politicians."

Well, the rest of the way to Tokyo I kept thinking of the occasions in recent years when threadbare foreigners had pointed out to me that American culture was somewhat less impressive than American plumbing and, now that I'm back at my pot-bellied desk after seeing some of what the world has to offer in the art departments, I have to admit there's quite a bit of truth mixed in with their condescension. While we think nothing of spending millions to protect the breeding grounds of oysters, we're as stingy as Scrooge when the arts are concerned and, as a consequence, our output of paintings, sculpture and good music is hardly on a par with our output of chewing gum.

In Italy, France and England, my wife and I got a good look-listen at their government-subsidized opera houses and theatres, and usually we came away pop-eyed and perk-ened. We saw revivals of classics and experimental productions of new plays which no commercial showman could afford to gamble with and, in practically every instance, the price of admission was what we pay here for a sleazy movie.

As you know, this business of a nation's picking up the tabs for art projects is old stuff in Europe. It started when the Greeks began turning hillsides into theatres and, during the Renaissance, there was hardly a town in Italy which didn't do the right and proper by its talented painters and sculptors.

Well, if you get to traipse through the museums, parks and libraries of the Continent, you'll instantly realize how good an investment this has been, even in terms of hard cash. I'm no authority on the subject, but I can assure you that the Helms Haynes, Vinton Freedleys, Robert Sherwoods and others heading the movement for a national theatre are not on it.

Moreover, this list is within easy reach—it's in my vault—and at the proper time I can think of nothing I'd like better than to make it available to the proper authorities.

Meyers was elected lieutenant governor of Division No. 2 of the Key Clubs. The youths reported they entered a bid to obtain designation of Kingston as the 1950 convention site for the Key Club, but were not successful.

Mother Is Charged With Infant's Death

Hazleton, Pa., May 13 (AP)—A 26-year-old woman who described herself as a child psychologist, was held on a murder charge today in the fatal beating of her infant son.

Jailed is Mrs. Martha Woodson Kalwaic, an expectant mother. Police Chief Steve Havrilla said she told him she beat her 15-month-old son, Henry, on the head because she thought he was developing "a Freudian jealousy of Karen (his sister), suspecting I cared more for Karen."

Havrilla said the young woman added she suspected "the boy was going into tempera tantrums to annoy the little girl" and so she decided to punish him by repeated slapping.

The police chief said the baby's abdomen was purple from beating. Both lips were discolored and his head injured from banging on a floor.

While Mrs. Kalwaic remained in jail, her husband, Dr. Henry J. Kalwaic, 30, a dentist, was in seclusion with Karen, who is two and one-half years old.

The woman was arrested yesterday two hours after the child died at Hazleton Hospital. Havrilla said she was coherent and calm except for two wild outbursts of tears.

Mrs. Kalwaic said she studied psychology at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., and taught school at Richmond before she was married.

She said Havrilla related, that when she first began to suspect her son of "Freudian jealousy," she decided to send him to her family's home in Richmond where, she said, her father is a judge.

But, Havrilla quoted her as saying, she changed her mind and decided she would punish him by bumping his head on the floor—"and I've been doing that for some time."

Housing Project
75 Cedar Street,
May 12, 1949
Dear Sir:
As a public spirited citizen, and one who is greatly interested in the proposed Housing Project, I was a spectator the other night at the meeting of the Common Council. There I was a witness to a very discouraging and disgusting spectacle. I listened to much eloquent oratory, which finally resulted in the seemingly pre-arranged acceptance of a counter-Housing-Plan, i.e. to request the State Housing Authority to build numerous small units throughout our city instead of the proposed plan. The main thing wrong with this idea is the fact that the State Housing Law does not allow this type of project, and our esteemed Aldermen undoubtedly were well aware of this fact. So, here we have our Legislative representatives adopting a resolution which they already know can not be consummated; a truly amateurish and non-deceptive bit of "stalling".
The opposition group read statements which seemed to have been prepared by someone else; there was even a "claque" there, an organized applause group from the 12th Ward led by the father of one of the Aldermen, who demonstrated at the proper moments with ringing acclamations. It seems that the opposition Ward's residents will stoop to any level, no matter how low it may be, to promote their own selfish interests. I am wondering if this self-styled "clique-minded" group from the 12th Ward would be so vehemently opposed to this project if it were located in a different Ward. I sincerely doubt it!
As for the Aldermen; if this is an example of the manner in which they handle such an important bit of legislation, I for one declare that it is time we citizens do something about it. I believe it my duty to make certain that people in my own Ward and the other Wards in the city know what is going on; that their Aldermen are playing "political football" with the most important bit of Legislation to arise in a long time. This is not meant to be a threat, nor do I have any hopes of altering any of their opinions; it is too clearly indicated that the opinion of some of these Aldermen, at least in this case, is not one that is their own, but rather, one that is dictated to them, for strictly political reasons.
I believe that it is well nigh time that the citizens of this city stop being fooled by the selfish interest, half-truth, and in some cases, downright lies which have dominated the 12th Ward's propaganda to date. I believe that every citizen should make an effort to fully study this project and learn the true facts concerning it. Most of the opposition's arguments against this project are so silly as to not even warrant the dignity of a reply.
I, for one do herewith present my sincere hope that the Common Council of the City of Kingston speedily adopt the proposed Housing Project, and thus aid in formulating a bit of progress which this city so badly needs.
Respectfully,
JOHN RAY MAYONE

Cheap Attack, She Says
Lake Success, May 13 (AP)—The U. N. Assembly's social committee early today overwhelmingly defeated a Polish resolution which western delegates called a "political attack" on the displaced persons program. Poland's Hunyik Altman charged the D.P. camps in the western occupation zones of Germany and Austria were being used to "furnish cheap labor to Marshall Plan countries." U. S. Delegate Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt called it a "cheap attack" and said the resolution was intended for "home consumption".

Man Is Sentenced For Attack Upon Westport Woman

Bridgeport, Conn., May 13 (AP)—Daniel J. Osborne, 38, Gretna Farms Negro, was convicted by a Superior Court jury yesterday on charges arising from an attack on Mrs. Ralph L. Boyer, Westport artist's wife.
Osborne, charged with assault with intent to rape and aggravated assault, took the stand in his defense. He admitted he had entered Mrs. Boyer's home last February 7 on the pretext of using her telephone, and then, because of an "urge to kill," assaulted her with his fists and a candleholder. He also admitted he had attempted to choke Mrs. Boyer with a length of rope and threatened her with two firearms, but denied he had ever intended to rape her. Judge Edward J. Daly sentenced Osborne to nine years in state's prison on the assault with intent to rape charge, and to three years for aggravated assault. An additional sentence of 15 to 20 years was imposed after the defendant pleaded guilty to a burglary at the home of Benjamin A. Javitz, of Westport, where he had been employed as a part-time butler and chauffeur.
